Captured Sub Attracts President's Eye

A captured 2-man Jap sub (in background) attracts attention of President Roosevelt at Mare Island, Calif., navy yard on his recent tour. Discussing the "midget" with the President are Vice Admiral Joan W. Green, commander, 12th naval district and Rear Admiral W. L. Friedell, commanding officer of the navy yard. (Official U. President Hopeful of Making Another Tour of Inspection

Ends Secret Trip With Praise for American People's Spirit

Washington, Oct. 2.—(AP)—President Roosevelt's inspection of bustling war establishments around the edge of the nation worked out so well that he was giving earnest consideration today to another tour or two through the central and southeastern sections of the country.

He missed those areas while traveling 8,754 miles through 24 states in the last fortnight, paying surprise visits to private war plants and teeming Army, Navy and Marine bases. But he had hopes of visiting them next spring to find out at first hand what they are contributing to the war effort.

He voiced that hope late yesterday, at a press conference at which he released details of his swing around the periphery of America and gave his impressions of what he had seen.

The trip was conducted with all possible secrecy. Not a line was to be published about it until Roosevelt had come safely back to Washington.

It took him into plants turning out deadly war weapons and to Army, Navy and Marine bases where men were being put into fighting trim.

The president got the idea, he said, that these arsenals were operating at 94 or 95 per cent of efficiency, that they were approaching the tremendous production goals set for them, and that employers and employees were doing their utmost to obtain maximum output.

Pretty Darned Good

He said he considered 94 or 95 per cent pretty darned good and added that it would be impossible to reach 100 per cent before the end of the year—because of all kinds of causes, little and big, the majority unpreventable.

He said he was going to ask for a great deal more in the next few months, indicating that the goals would be set higher than they were last January.

At that time he called for 60,000 planes in 1942 and 125,000 in 1943, 45,000 tanks this year and 5,000 next, 20,000 anti-aircraft units in 1942 and 35,000 next year, 1,000,000 tons of shipping this year and 10,000,000 in 1943. The shipping totals later were boosted.

Roosevelt said he found the finest kind of morale among the people—a willingness to sacrifice and to accept any necessary war measures. He described the war spirit of the country as a whole as very much alive—except in the nation's capital.

Hits Press, Radio, Congress

Contending that the war spirit was far less than in the rest of America, the president spread blame for this condition among the press, radio, and administration officials.

Seeking to justify their service to the war effort, he said, numerous legislators pry into matters left to military experts who know more about them.

He accused a minority of the

THE WAR TODAY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Wide World War Analyst

London, Oct. 2.—(AP)—The closer you get to the enslaved continent of Europe the more apparent it is that it is rushing headlong toward a violent eruption which is likely to come the moment Hitler's raucous voice cries quits, if indeed it doesn't happen before then.

It sounds harsh in the saying, but it seems inevitable that many of the conquered peoples will rise in their hunger and misery and exact terrible vengeance on their Nazi oppressors—that is, unless the allies are able to keep the situation in hand.

None could foresee the end of such an upheaval if it were uncontrolled. New and revolutionary governments might mushroom up to take the place of those which existed before the war, as the people struggled to rehabilitate themselves. The best one could say is that there would be black chaos.

I understand that the allies already have taken cognizance of the dangers in this situation and are laying their lines to cope with it. Obviously the solution lies in the closest possible cooperation among Britain, Russia and America.

It needs no wealth of imagination to see what is growing out of the hell that Hitler has dug. The French and Poles and Czechs and Slovaks and Yugoslavs and Norwegians, and all the others whose kin and kin have been massacred by the Nazi fiend's murderous crew, are eager to exact payment in kind.

But there is more to it than concerns the hundreds of thousands of civilians who have been slain that the Nazi anti-Christian might be master of Europe. Most of the continent has been ravaged. In many countries there is actual

Distinguished Service Cross for Rev. Rawls, Former Dixon Pastor

The Rev. David G. Rawls, now a captain in the U. S. Army air force in foreign service, was recently awarded the distinguished service flying cross by General Douglas MacArthur, word from the Australian headquarters of the commander states. Capt. Rawls was one of a group of six Army Air Force officers to be decorated at that time, and the word of his success as an Army pilot is received with much gratification by his many friends in Dixon as well as the members of the congregation he served at the West End Congregational church for several months.

Capt. Rawls was decorated for a flight between Australia and the Philippines on April 10.

Soviets Appear to Have Again Staved Off Dire Disaster

Astonishing Red Holds at Stalingrad Hold Into 39th Day

By ROGER D. GREENE
Associated Press War Editor

Russian shock troops, attacking with gun butts and bayonets, were reported driving the Germans from house after house amid the nightmare wreckage of Stalingrad today, and once again it appeared that the astonishing Soviets had warded off disaster.

It was the 39th day of siege. A bulletin from Nazi field headquarters asserted that German troops had captured suburban Orlovka, in the northwest section of Stalingrad, and claimed the encirclement of a major Soviet force to the west of this center.

Soviet dispatches declared the Germans gained only 200 or 300 yards in the northwest suburbs, losing nearly a thousand dead. The Nazi high command said new Russian assaults against the

Vichy Replies to American Request

Vichy, Oct. 2.—(AP)—The Vichy Foreign Ministry said today that French police had nothing to do with the arrests of Americans in the German-occupied zone and instructed Gaston Henry-Haye, Ambassador to Washington, to inform the United States government to that effect.

This action followed a request by S. Pinkney Tuck, American charge d'affaires, for information on the roundup. The original version reaching Vichy was that French police made the arrests on instructions of the Nazis.

(A Bern dispatch said a check by neutral sources gave the number of Americans arrested in Paris at 425, of which 300 were women. Doubt was expressed in Bern that the number was as high as 1,400, as reported in Vichy and Washington, but there was considerable difficulty in ascertaining the exact figure since many Americans living in occupied France for a long time had not reported to consular authorities. The Swiss government represents United States interests in occupied France.)

Both Parties Begin Voter Registration Drive in Illinois

Million of Electors of State Estimated to Be Unenrolled

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 2.—(AP)—Estimates that probably a million or more potential downstate Illinois voters still are not registered for the Nov. 3 election were made today as leaders of both Republican and Democratic organizations opened final drives to enroll voters under the statewide permanent registration act before the deadline at 9 p. m. Tuesday, Oct. 6.

Alfred F. Schupp, co-chairman of Governor Green's registration committee, estimated that 1,400,000 are registered now and that 250,000 more would sign up before the registration closes. The 1940 federal census figures indicated there were roughly 2,500,000 "potentially eligible" voters in the 101 downstate counties. In the 1940 presidential election the downstate vote was 2,124,046.

While Willie's program was not definitely fixed, it was believed he would remain in China about two weeks.

Someone asked about his visit to Russia and Willie replied, "they're putting up a great fight over there."

Told that Japanese scouting planes flew in the vicinity of Chungking the past three days, but that there were none today, he brushed off the ominous implications with the light-hearted comeback: "I feel very much complimented. No flattery appeals to me like that."

Once before during his flight, a Japanese plane was on his trail, causing delay at one point in northwest China, Willie disclosed. He said, however, he was "in much more danger of being killed by the kindness of the Chinese than by enemy bullets."

Hog Shortage, Leads to 22-Year Top Price

Chicago, Oct. 2.—(AP)—A dearth of hogs here and at other cities throughout the livestock circuit today caused prices to spurt to new highs for the last 22 years.

Hogs broke through the previous 22-year peak, $15.40 a hundred pounds, in spectacular fashion on gains ranging from 25 to 50 cents. Choice types sold at $15.70 a hundred pounds. This was the highest since Oct. 18, 1920, when the top was $15.75.

Livestock men said there was just one specific reason for the advance, the sharpest for a single day in several months: There simply were not sufficient hogs sent to market to meet the pressing demand for pork meat.

Private Sentenced on Worthless Check Charge

St. Louis, Oct. 2.—(AP)—Pvt. Daniel M. Miller, 23, formerly of Danville, Ill., was sentenced to five years in the penitentiary by Federal Judge George H. Moore, after pleading guilty to charges of cashing worthless checks.

Miller reentered two weeks ago at a St. Louis hotel as an army sergeant, cashed two worthless checks and ran up a bill for $33.

"While your buddies fight and win the war as heroes, you'll be doing time in prison," Judge Moore told him.

14,778,159 Americans Filed Tax Returns

Washington, Oct. 2.—(AP)—The Treasury reported today that 14,778,159 Americans filed tax returns for 1940, an increase of 91.5 per cent over the previous year.

There was a net income of $38,588,545.894 and a total tax liability of $1,496,403,386, increases of 57.8 and 61.1 per cent, respectively.

In Illinois there were 1,266,390 individual returns reporting net income of $3,291,837,000 and a tax of $130,455,000.

Willkie Accorded Great Welcome in Chungking, China

Chungking, Oct. 2.—(AP)—Wendell Willkie stepped from a United States Army transport plane today at the end of a long flight from Russia over an inner Asia route seldom crossed by an occidental and was welcomed with the greatest demonstration ever accorded a foreigner in this Free China capital.

Some 10,000 representatives of various organizations were at the field when the transport landed with Moon F. Chin, Baltimore-born ace flier of the China National Aviation Corporation, at the controls.

Willkie's arrival ended the closely-guarded secret of the stages of his 4,000-mile air journey from Kuibyshev, Russia.

Heading the list of notables welcoming him at the airport were members of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's cabinet; Lieut. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell, chief of the staff of allied forces in China, and U. S. Ambassador Clarence E. Gauss.

"How do you do, everybody. Glad to see you," Willkie called out as he stepped from his plane.

Program Uncertain

While Willkie's program was not definitely fixed, it was believed he would remain in China about two weeks.

Someone asked about his visit to Russia and Willie replied, "they're putting up a great fight over there."

Told that Japanese scouting planes flew in the vicinity of Chungking the past three days, but that there were none today, he brushed off the ominous implications with the light-hearted comeback: "I feel very much complimented. No flattery appeals to me like that."

22 Killed in Puerto Rican Plane Crash

San Juan, Puerto Rico, Oct. 2.—(AP)—A United States army transport plane crashed upon the mountainous backbone of Puerto Rico northwest of Coamo yesterday and all of the 22 persons aboard, including several civilians, were reported killed.

Flying from Ponce, a southern city of the island which is the most easterly of the greater Antilles, the transport was wrecked shortly after its takeoff.

Searchers toiled afoot for hours across the rough and hazardous country to locate the wreckage.

Military authorities withheld announcement of the names of the dead pending notification of relatives in the United States.

Guard for Violence on Gandhi's 73rd Birthday

New Delhi, India, Oct. 2.—(AP)—The followers of Mohandas K. Gandhi marked their little leader's 73rd birthday with "special observances" today while he remained politically incommunicado as a British prisoner in the Aga Khan's palatial home at Poona.

Up to noon the observances were peaceful, but authorities remained on the watchful alert they have kept since the launching of an independence drive and Gandhi's arrest last Aug. 8 set off a violent rebellion.

That the situation was still tense and might erupt anywhere at any time was indicated yesterday at Erum, in Orissa province on the east coast, where a mob tried to raid a police station. Twenty-five were killed by police fire.

20 Per Cent Cut in Civilian Meat Use Ordered Effectuated

OPA Says Step Is Taken to Assure Supplies for Army, Allies

Washington, Oct. 2.—(AP)—The amount of meat for civilian consumption was cut nearly 20 per cent today by a government order intended to assure sufficient quantities for the armed forces and lend-lease.

A preliminary to the meat rationing program which will limit consumers to about two and a half pounds a week by the end of the year, the order was issued to meat packers last night by the Office of Price Administration.

The directive, effective until Dec. 31, specifies the amounts of beef, veal, pork, mutton and lamb that packers may distribute for civilian use. Large packers slaughtering more than 500,000 pounds quarterly were ordered to reduce beef deliveries to 80 per cent of the amount distributed in the same period last year. Pork deliveries were cut 25 per cent and lamb and mutton, 5 per cent.

Smaller slaughterers were instructed to limit deliveries only to the amounts of their 1941 deliveries.

Veal Limited Also

OPA's food requirements committee previously indicated veal would be cut to 80 per cent of the 1941 delivery. OPA, however, explained the armed forces did not plan to consume as large quantities as expected and consequently, veal deliveries would be limited to the amount delivered in the same period last year.

Lard, liver, hearts and kidneys are not restricted by the order, and while canned meat, sausage, scrapple and similar products are not subject to quota restrictions, they will be affected by the order because the meat used in their preparations is subject to the restrictions.

Quota violators are liable to a year's imprisonment or $10,000 fine, or both, and suspension of the right to deal in meat or other rationed products.

Nelson Praised Farmers

Meanwhile Donald M. Nelson told the house agriculture committee today that "there will be enough food to eat" during the war, and denied that he had ever said the farm problem was not a major one.

Priorities Prevent Street Improvement

Government priorities and ceilings have prevented an outstanding improvement in Dixon this year, Mayor Slothower announced today. Last March the city council started work on a project to improve Third street from Galena avenue west to Douglas avenue by application of a black top surfacing material over the present brick paving, very similar to that now in use on many of Dixon's improved streets.

The survey was completed but before the contract could be let the government ceiling on black top paving materials halted further proceedings. Mayor Slothower has appealed to the federal highway department and to Congressman Leo Allen at Washington, only to be informed that material is not available for the improvement, which was to have been financed under the city's share of the state gas tax funds.

Four Emergency Air Raid Warning Posts Outlined for Dixon Vicinity

The city of Dixon and its suburbs have undergone a thorough survey and have been zoned under the Civilian Defense program, with four stations established for the location of emergency air raid posts. Mayor William Slothower after investigating several types of air raid warning signals, has placed an order for three powerful sirens which will be placed at three of the stations, and a steam whistle will serve as a warning at the fourth location.

The Swissville district residents will be warned by the steam whistle at the Borden condenser plant and the sirens will be placed on top of the North Central school, serving the district north of Rock river. On the south side of the

Five Enemy Ships Sunk, 4 Probably Sunk, 3 Damaged

Washington, Oct. 2.—(AP)—Destruction of five Japanese ships, probable sinkings of four others and damaging of three was announced by the Navy today in communiques reporting on recent submarine actions in the western Pacific and Army aerial attacks against enemy forces in the Aleutians.

One of the vessels blasted and described as probably sunk was a Japanese submarine discovered by a strong air force which raided a Japanese-held Kiska island, in the Aleutians, September 28. On that and the preceding day Army four-engine Liberators made five separate attacks on the Japanese.

The only United States loss in the actions was one fighter plane. Navy department communique, No. 137, said:

"North Pacific"

"1. On September 27 Army Liberator bombers dropped bombs on enemy ships and shore installations at Kiska. One Zero fighter was shot down. Damage to bomb objectives could not be determined. All our planes returned."

"2. On the same date near the island of Attu three Army bombers attacked a transport, escorted by a destroyer. Near misses damaged the transport which, when last seen, had stopped."

"3. During the morning of September 28 a strong force of Army heavy bombers, escorted by pursuit craft, again bombed enemy ships and buildings at Kiska. Zero fighters and anti aircraft batteries on surface vessels attempted to repel this attack. A transport and a submarine were damaged and probably sunk and five Zero fighters were shot down. One of our pursuit planes was lost."

"4. During the afternoon of September 28 Army bombers again attacked the Kiska area, strafing and bombing ships and shore facilities. Results of this attack are not known."

"5. During the same afternoon Army planes attacked an enemy cargo ship northwest of Kiska. The ship was bombed and strafed and left in a damaged condition."

Conditions Adverse

These five actions in a two day period raised the number of ships which the Japanese have now had blasted in the Aleutians to 13 sunk, three probably sunk and 21 damaged—a total of 37.

The raid on the transport near Attu indicated that the Army's long range, four-engine bombers had gone far afield from the usual scene of their Aleutian operations. Attu, which was the first island reported occupied by the Japanese in early June, is the westernmost of the Aleutians.

Recent operations had been concentrated in the vicinity of Kiska, where in the past two months both Army and Navy planes and submarines have kept the enemy under a steady pounding even in the face of adverse weather conditions, fogs being

Gout to Grade Meat of 3 Major Companies

Chicago, Oct. 2.—(AP)—All beef and veal distributed by three of the nation's major packers will be graded and stamped by the government under an agreement in federal court between the Office of Price Administration, and Swift and Company, Armour & Company, and the Cudahy Packing Company.

Announcement of the agreement was made by John C. Weigel, regional OPA administrator, who said the pact would affect a substantial part of the country's meat supply, and that he expected other packers would make similar agreements.

The agreement was included in orders entered in the United States district court by Judges William H. Holly and William J. Campbell, before whom the OPA previously secured temporary injunctions restraining nine Chicago packers from upgrading meat in violation of price ceilings.

Payroll Illiopolis Ordnance Plant Is Stolen This Morn

$20,000 Taken From Bank Officer on Street; Three Sought

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 2.—(AP)—Three men dressed as workmen slugged a bank messenger and escaped with $20,000 in ordnance plant payroll money in a daring daylight robbery this morning on the main street of Illiopolis, near here.

State police set up a highway blockade throughout central Illinois, but two hours after the hold-up there had been no reported trace of the car in which the trio sped out of town.

Sheriff Harry Eielson of Sangamon county said Robert Knox, assistant cashier of the Farmers State bank of Illiopolis, was slugged while carrying the $20,000 in currency from the postoffice to the bank at 9 a. m. The money was to cash checks of workers at two ordnance plants near Illiopolis.

Knox, about 60 years old, was struck on the head with the butt of a gun by one of the three men who seized the money as Knox fell and then jumped into a waiting car containing two accomplices. Several stitches were required to close a wound on Knox's scalp.

Reports conflicted as to which direction the robber car took after leaving Illiopolis. First information given state police was that it turned west on U. S. highway 36 toward Springfield, but Sheriff Eielson said later he found two witnesses who said it sped east toward Decatur.

Had No Protection

The sheriff of Sangamon county said the money was being carried in a satchel by Knox from the postoffice to the bank a half block away, and that Knox apparently had no police protection.

Knox told sheriff's officers that two men were sitting in an automobile across the street from the bank in Illiopolis and that a third man was lounging against the machine, talking to the occupants, when he walked by on his way to the bank with the money. As he drew abreast of the car, he told officers, the man standing on the sidewalk knocked him to the ground, seized the currency-filled satchel and jumped into the car.

The state police radio broadcast described the bandit car as a late model Ford V-8, of dark color. The description given by Knox of his assailant depicted a man of 35 years, dark complexioned, five feet seven inches tall and weighing 160 pounds. All three men were roughly dressed as workmen, he said.

All Officers Notified

Today is payday at two ordnance plants near Illiopolis and sheriff's officers said the money was being transferred from the postoffice to the bank to pay checks of workmen.

Chief Harry Yde of the state police said all law enforcement officers in central Illinois were notified of the robbery. Witnesses gave state police a license number of the holdup men's car, but police headquarters said it was issued for another make of car, and probably was erroneous.

Illiopolis is a Sangamon county village whose population was 714 in 1940, but which has more than tripled in size since establishment of two government ordnance plants there. It is about 20 miles east of Springfield.

CAN MEN CALL YOU "SCRAP SLACKER"?

No Matter What You've Already Done About Your Scrap Metal . . . Read This Now!

To win this war we've got to get more scrap, and you have the finest kind of scrap. You have it in the largest quantities. Your scrap takes the least work to prepare for the mills. Without your help, all the household scrap in America — important as it is — cannot stave off disaster!

So here's what you must do. Wake up to the fact that it's not enough just to clean out broken and useless equipment. We've got to keep going! Get out the stuff that's lying around because someone thinks it may be used some day.

Make this the absolute unchallenged rule

IF IT HASN'T BEEN USED FOR SIX MONTHS AND
YOU ARE CERTAIN IT WON'T BE USED FOR THE NEXT SIX—SELL IT . . . OR SCRAP IT!

This is work for the boss to do—no one else can give the final word. If it's machinery, get in touch with the manufacturer, to see if someone else can use it. If they can't—scrap it! If it's a pile of extra parts or fixtures, sell or scrap the ones you don't need. If it's heavy stuff that has to be dismantled — do it, even if it costs more than the scrap will bring. Remember—you're not in this to make money . . . you're doing it to save our Country from defeat!

Get your employees in on this. Listen to their suggestions—let them know you're in it all the way. But don't forget the real job is up to you! For if this job isn't done, if our community and all the others in America don't come through, steel mills will shut down. Then if we lose the war—what will the things you hoard be worth? Stop for a moment and think of that!

WILL DIE BECAUSE YOU FAILED?

Foreign Travel Club Is Taken to Old Mexico

Kodachrome pictures of Mexican scenes, recorded by a camera enthusiast whose appreciation of artistic values is demonstrated in every scene, unfolding to the accompaniment of interesting comment and historical background, entertained members of the Foreign Travel club at their first meeting of the season last evening. Vincent Carney of Rochelle was the speaker, addressing the club members at the Loveland Community House.

On his first trip to Mexico in 1936, Mr. Carney said, he found the country unprepared for tourists, with few hotels and accommodations. On the fourth journey "south of the border" last spring, however, the Rochelle traveler found fine hotels, and many new gasoline stations along the highways, as well as numerous new schools. The country was prepared to care for large crowds of tourists—but there were none because of the war. "All over Mexico," Mr. Carney stated, "they now know the value of American money."

As one travels south from Monterey over the scenic Pan-American highway, the club members noted, one is never out of sight of mountains. Along the celluloid itinerary, were seen blue streams far below, cultivated fields, quaint villages, the maguay, from which comes the fibre for clothes and national drinks, an industry that rivals sugar cane in Mexico.

Views of Mexico City included the Cathedral Square, dating from Aztec times, the colorful flower market, modern homes and apartment buildings, and a collection of treasures owned by a Spanish family whose ancestor was sent to Mexico from Spain in 1650.

Other views included the pyramids, which have been excavated at Teotihuacan, revealing a culture equalling that of Egypt; the country's most famous shrine at Guadalupe; Cuernavaca, playground of the wealthy; Xochimilco, the lake whose floating islands are anchored by poplars; and Taxco, former artist and tourist colony, now a ghost town. Numerous views of Acapulco and the tropical blue water along the shore were seen, in addition to a nearby African colony of negroes at Pie de la Cuesta. From Mexico City, Mr. Carney took his audience west to Toluca, to catch glimpses of bougainvillea along the arches of the aqueduct at Morelia, the Patzcuaro lake region, where seven different islands are inhabited by seven different tribes; Guadalajara, which is much like Miami Beach; and sugar plantations at Tuxpan.

IDEAL CLUB
Mrs. L. W. Miller was hostess to members of the Ideal club at their opening meeting of the season on Wednesday afternoon. Her guests numbered 14 members and two visitors, Mrs. Blake Grover and Mrs. A. P. Corbin. The business meeting was followed by chapters from "Inside America," (John Gunther), read by the president Mrs. Christianson. Mrs. Corbin and Mrs. E. O. Miller assisted the hostess at the refreshment table.

PARLOR CLUB TO PLAY CONTRACT

Members of the O. E. S. Parlor club will meet at Brinton Memorial Masonic temple for a dessert course at 2 p. m. Monday, preceding their usual contract games. Mrs. Henry Hey, Mrs. Harry Stephan, and Mrs. Harold Emmert are co-hostesses.

Mrs. THOMAS MAURY

Mrs. Maury, state chairman of national defense, Daughters of the American Revolution, will analyze the situation if "Union Now" is adopted, as outlined in the book by Clarence K. Streit, for members of the Dixon chapter, Saturday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. W. G. Murray. She will attempt to prove that America has not been the isolated national which the planners for a post-war Utopia of world-wide dimension would have the country believe.

Saturday's meeting is scheduled for 2:30 o'clock, and is the chapter's opening session of the season.

SEWING CLUB

Mrs. Emil Tappainer entertained members of the Thread and Thimble club on Monday evening. A box of gifts was packed for Pvt. Harold Kested, stationed with the United States Army somewhere in Egypt.

Miss Evelyn Kested will entertain on Thursday, Oct. 15, instead of Oct. 11, as originally planned.

Ensign Leslie Marshall, brother of Mrs. Robert Ball of 508 Third avenue, was graduated Saturday from a post-graduate school in naval architecture at the United States naval academy at Annapolis, Md., receiving a commission as Naval Constructor. Ensign Marshall, a former Dixon student, was one of 80 graduates from the school, and has been assigned to a post in San Francisco, Calif. Enroute west, Ensign and Mrs. Marshall will spend a week in Dixon, where they are expected to arrive on Sunday.

Mrs. Thomas Ames Reaches 96 Today

Ensuing years have added 96 to Mrs. Thomas A. Ames' list. And although no formal celebration was planned for her anniversary today, friends and relatives remembered the date with scores of greeting cards, gifts, and flowers that began arriving yesterday.

Born Oct. 2, 1846 in Pittsford, Rutland county, Vermont, Mrs. Ames has lived a full and interesting life. Since the death of her husband about 12 years ago, she has resided at 317 East Fellows street with her only daughter, Mrs. E. M. Goodsell.

Mrs. H. U. Bardwell entertained at luncheon for Mrs. Ames yesterday. Among the numerous gifts she has received were a book and an appropriate memento from the Twentieth Century Literature club of Clinton, Wis. She is the only living charter member of the Clinton club, which she headed as president at the time of its founding in 1901.

Dixon DeMolays Install Staff

Gordon Ommen was installed as master counselor of Dixon chapter, Order of DeMolay, at formal ceremonies Wednesday evening at Brinton Memorial Masonic temple. Parents and friends of the chapter members, and a number of Job's Daughters witnessed the ritual, which was open to the public.

Composing the installing staff were: Installing officer, Vern Tennant; senior counselor, Dan McKenney; junior counselor, Morey C. Pires; marshal, H. W. Thomson; chaplain, Floyd Smith; senior deacon, William Lafferty. William (Dad) Krogh of the new Rockford chapter was present, and invited the Dixon chapter to attend installation ceremonies in Rockford, Oct. 19. The Rockford chapter, less than a year old, already boasts a membership of more than 60.

Gordon is the fortieth master counselor to serve the local chapter. Thirteen past masters are now serving in the armed forces, and seven others are college students.

A Thought for Today

Now I beseech you, brethren, by the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye all speak the same thing, and that there be no divisions among you; but that ye be perfectly joined together in the same mind
and in the same judgment.—Corinthians 1:10.

By union the smallest states thrive, by discord the greatest are destroyed.—Sallust.

Stabilized Inflation

Some days ago we said it was in the air that the farmers themselves were ready to accept simple parity, not 110 per cent parity, or 112 per cent, but just 100 per cent. Others may not have seen it that way. The farm bloc in congress particularly made a strong effort to achieve 112 per cent or more, and it now appears they may fail in that effort. At least they may fail in that particular direction, but achieve it in another way, because it can not be ignored that politics is politics and an election is drawing nigh.

It was feared that an open split between congress and the President might rend the country and hamper the war effort. It was feared that congress might enact a law directing 112 or 116 per cent
parity for the farmers, and that Mr. Roosevelt would veto it. Thereupon he might try to carry out his price stabilization design by means of so-called war powers, while an angry congress might attempt to enact the 112 per cent parity measure over his veto. That would be a pretty kettle of fish—if it could be done.

As the debate progresses it becomes more and more evident that stabilization is not intended to be price and wage fixing, but rather an attempt to keep prices and wages balanced, or stabilized; but that while they are being kept in balance the cost of living may rise. If that is true, then what we shall have is stabilized inflation—more or less of it.

To be called inflation it need not be runaway
inflation. Any rise in the general cost of living,
whether or not it is attended by a rise in income,
may be called inflation, and any government having
in mind the people with fixed incomes or obligations due them in the future, would dread the word.
It is apparent that we shall have a small or large measure of stabilized inflation. Farmers, we suppose, are to be protected by some sort of adjustable scale, and labor the same. How is the administration going to stabilize the incomes that are already fixed; how will it protect their purchasing power? How will the administration protect the white collar and professional groups whose income is fixed in part by price ceilings, and in part by the fact that their business is poor because of the war? How will it protect those who will have achieved no increase in income, but still must suffer
a serious rise in taxes and the cost of living?

There is a labor bloc in congress and there is

OF BRIGHTNESS GONE

BY HOLLY WATTERSON.

MRS. HARPER CHAPTER XX

IN her almost two years of private duty she had nursed some testy patients, Candace reflected,
but there had been none quite the equal of this termagant of a little old woman, Mrs. Harper.

She was at the moment cleaning up the mess Mrs. Harper had made by throwing a glass of orange juice at the floor nurse,
Miss Finch. She had just cleaned up Finch, too—as far as possible,
that is, without the complete bath
that was the only thing that really would do it.

Finch had orange juice all the way from her cap and hair down
to her white brogans. Candace had felt sorry for her, she was so upset and so terrified, but though she had carefully controlled the impulse she had felt strongly like laughing, too.

Mrs. Harper demanded testily
from her bed, "Just why are you smiling? Just what are you thinking that's so funny?"

Candace straightened and favored the furious old lady with a most winning smile of candor.
"Why, I was just thinking that the thing I really like about private duty is that one meets such nice people," she said.

"Meaning me, I suppose. Meaning I'm not nice. Young woman,
you're impertinent!"

Candace opened her eyes wide.
"But you would have thought me
impertinent if I'd refused to answer," she pointed out innocently.

Mrs. Harper snorted. "You couldn't have told a polite lie, I suppose?"

"That never occurred to me,"
Candace said.

Mrs. Harper snorted again, but more mildly. "You are impertinent. But it's all right, you amuse
me. I like people with a bit of gumption. That other little thing," she said contemptuously, "that comes practically crawling on her belly in her anxiety to please
every time I ring."

"Finch hasn't been nursing as long as I have," Candace said.

"She hasn't yet learned, like Alice,
that a lot of the White Queens
who go around yelling, 'Off with their heads!' are nothing but old

cards anyway. She's afraid of you. And you just rang for her to be unpleasant."
"Certainly I'm entitled to have 20 minutes, in peace, for my dinner? You had just had your own dinner; you didn't need orange juice, you could certainly have waited until I got back. Finch is busy enough without you plaguing
her with unnecessary things when you have your own special to do them for you. She knows you just do it to be nasty and it makes her nervous. No wonder she's awkward sometimes."

"SOMETIMES!" Mrs. Harper
repeated scornfully. She added suddenly, "See here, young woman, are you suggesting that I'm a White Queen, nothing but an old card? You'll find I'm real enough, your head will come off
fast enough if I complain about you to Dr. Patterson."

"I doubt it," Candace said calmly. "I'm a good nurse, I have a good reputation in this hospital.
And you—" She laughed a little.
The wicked old woman really amused her. "You've worn out about a dozen specials in two weeks. I think Dr. Patterson would know which of us was at fault."

Mrs. Harper sighed. "I'm afraid you're right," she admitted. "Then she brightened. "As a matter of fact I'm thinking of letting my other specials go and taking you
on for full-time duty."

Candace threw up her hands in genuine horror. "Human flesh couldn't stand it," she said with feeling.

The wrinkled old face looked hurt. "See here, I'm not really as bad as that. There are people who are very fond of me. Take my grandson Duffy for instance—"

Candace groaned inwardly. Duffy's name was the worst plague ever visited on man—or rather, woman.
But the old lady adored him, and there was no point in actually hurting her. She said, "Mrs. Harper, I should have told you before,
I am asking to be taken off your case."

"What?" she exclaimed, agast.
"Why?"

"Well, there's a gall bladder
case that I've been on from time to time," Candace explained, lying easily; "they're going to operate finally. I'd like to be with the case then. It's interesting to be able to follow one through like that."

Mrs. Harper said indignantly,
"My case isn't interesting, I suppose?"

Candace grinned. "There are people going out working every

a farm bloc. Where is the white collar bloc? Who represents the teachers, clerks, salesmen, small merchants and service groups such as barbers? To the extent that the war effort would break down without the services of these people; to the extent that they pay taxes and to the extent that they have the same right to economic justice as the members
of any other group, they are entitled to the services of every senator and representative in Washington, and to the fullest consideration in any proposed law.

Prod Them, He Suggests

Mr. Willkie, after visiting Stalin Russia, says
a second front will be opened in Europe as soon as it is advisable from a military standpoint, although
he says the generals may have to be prodded a bit.
The generals are commanded by President Roosevelt. If the President actually has command, and if he orders the generals to attempt a second front tomorrow, they are obliged to obey. If they refuse, they can be replaced.

Actually the generals would need to be prodded
a bit if ordered to attempt a second front when,
out of their military experience, they knew such an attempt would end in disaster.

The purpose of this war is to defeat the axis,
not to rescue Russia, desirable as that may be at the moment. If in the course of defeating the axis
we manage to rescue the brave Russians who are making military history, that will be excellent. If we attempt an ill-advised invasion at a moment
when we are unprepared (if we are) and if it turns into a debacle, then the Russians might be tempted to sue for peace.

Now Is the Handy Time

Elizabeth Gilrain, writing in the Country Gentleman, suggests that we are a nation of string-savers. Meaning that we not only save string, but everything else which "may come in handy some day."

Go into almost any home with an attic and
garage, and you may find an odd assortment of iron,
brass, copper and aluminum articles for which the owner has no present use; for which no use is in sight, but still are hoarded because they may be needed some day.

All right. They are needed today. They are needed by the factories that turn out munitions.
They will come in handy—to throw at Hitler and Hirohito's head.

Once the war is over there will be other junk,
and plenty of it, to replace that which can be turned over to the junk collectors now. Formerly we "sold"
scrap to Hirohito. Let's GIVE it to him, now.

With interest.

Burmese Are Learning

The Burmese, like the Indo-Chinese, are learning now what is involved in co-operation with Japan's Asiatic program. The Burmese did not like the British. They provided a fifth column which contributed materially to the ease of the Jap conquest. Now they are suffering the consequences.

The Nipponese have proved themselves excellent fighters. But their national psychology in the end will help undo them. Already by their arrogance and cruelty they have largely destroyed the appeal of their slogan: Asia for the Asiatics. Their victims now realize that the Japs really meant:
Asia for the Japanese.

When the time comes, returning United Nations armies may find as vigorous a fifth column
working for them in Burma as that which originally aided the Japs.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON

(Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc. Reproduction in whole or in part strictly prohibited.)

Washington, Oct. 1.—At Stalingrad Hitler committed himself to pay an extravagant price for a bauble of prestige.

The city was ruined by his dive bombers at the outset. Early he reached and cut the Volga river
artery of Red commerce on both sides of the city, thereby attaining the main military objective in this sector.

But the Russians have used the
crumbled city ruins as barricades, strong as any fort. His planes became useless for such close-in fighting. His tanks could only be used in twos and threes to chase snipers along devastated
streets.

Thus he has had to sacrifice
ground troops heavily to win
street by street, day after day.

If the Russians could muster
any kind of an offensive along
the east-west line between the Volga and Don, north of the city,
they could even yet break the back of the Stalingrad attack.

They called in some reserves
from western Siberia, and threw them into this flank attack, but they were not able to break through.

The truth seems to be the Russians are better equipped materially and psychologically for the kind of last ditch hand-to-hand
defensive grappling of Stalingrad
than they are for offensive operations.

But Hitler's losses in Stalingrad must be measured far beyond the casualties which the Russians are daily claiming.

All his bragging cannot conceal
the fact that he has not yet obtained his oil. His commitment at Stalingrad prevented him
from shifting enough troops down
south to grab the prize Baku.

It also kept Rommel from getting the planes to develop his recent unexpected advantage on the Alamein line in Egypt.

The Red Black sea fleet is still operating from small ports south
of Tuapse, since its withdrawal from Novorossisk.

Furthermore, he has forced himself to keep his Russian drives
fully manned, with winter coming on, and cannot send badly needed reinforcements (particularly planes) to the western front
or to Rommel.

Mister Hitler can certainly pin
no nazi medals on his breast for what he got himself into at Stalingrad.

Therefore, while the news from
that front has been repetitious, canned, and, consequently somewhat dull, the broader facts of the situation are not wholly unfavorable.

Hitler is pinching Laval again,
and it looks like 30 or 40 French
cargo ships in the Mediterranean
will one of these days fall suddenly into German hands. Signs are accumulating that the deal
has been made, if such extortion
can be called a deal.

This sounds like Berlin is planning to reinforce Rommel for another major Egyptian drive during the winter.

The British think they have positive proof that German production has fallen off recently, despite what Goebbels said in the sports palace. Retooling operations and the shortage of labor
are responsible.

The retooling is probably a forecast that we can expect some innovations in planes, tanks and big guns. A couple of new German plane types already have appeared.

Hitler expects to have 3,000,000
workers from occupied countries
in the factories of Germany by the end of this year.

The Japs are still perched in full force on the Siberian border.
While the ideal season for a sudden Jap declaration of war on Russia is nearing an end, a fall
campaign there is still a very live prospect.

Recently, Tokyo has been spreading rumors, indirectly, that she has been trying to effect
peace between Russia and Germany, thereby implying she does not intend to attack Vladivostok.
No one believes such diplomatic feinting these days.

Without any publicity, the Japs
recently have edged their way
further south in the Gilbert islands.

Their attacks on our positions
in the Solomons are continuing actions and cannot be assumed to have ceased, even though you may not hear of them.

There is no reason why Mac-Arthur's new campaign to roll
them back through the Owen Stanley mountains in New Guinea
should not be successful.

But these three points of Japanese activity (the Gilberts, Solomons, and New Guinea) are not large enough to account for the withdrawals made in China in preparation for some promised

Sailors on Sinking U. S. Bomber Rescued

Norfolk, Va., Oct. 2.—(AP)— Fred W. Smith, machinist's mate third class, Galesburg, Ill., was among the crew of a sinking patrol bomber rescued by "almost superhuman efforts" of three of his enlisted shipmates, the Navy
announced yesterday.

Smith, with 12 other officers and men, was forced down upon the sea at 10 p. m. Sept. 3, the Navy said. Three enlisted men, working in darkness and waist
deep in water cut loose one of the bomber's life rafts. Four or five men at a time would rest in the boat while the others hung on to the lifelines.

The crew was not sighted by 12
planes which passed overhead, but
on Sept. 5 were spotted by a land
plane and rescued by a patrol
bomber after 39 hours in the water.

major offensive. That is still coming.

Thus on all the world fighting
fronts, the battle lines are reforming for coming events. The news from them has been stereotyped in recent weeks. Especially from Moscow and Berlin
where news is regarded as a diplomatic weapon.

But if the situation may be said
to be stabilized temporarily, it is a case of no news being good news for us. We are in a period of preparation and need time as much as anyone.

Fair Enough by WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York, Oct. 2.—Paul Mc-Nutt, General Hershey and all others concerned had better get
it through their heads right away
that the people of the United States will refuse to co-operate in any program of compulsory employment which attempts to force
millions of citizens to pay tribute to political subdivision of the new deal party known as the labor movement. McNutt is a politician and can address himself to the subject, Hershey, being a soldier,
must keep out of politics and
therefore probably will not address himself on this.

There is no point either in urging people to get into war work
voluntarily and then sending them
to the office of some union to pay grat to some racket as the price of a job. Yet this is being done all over the country and the mere cost in money, painful as it is to most of the victims of this sanctified stickup, isn't the whole objection. There is still such a thing as principle and the people simply will not give up their right to work, whether on government war
jobs or in private, nonwar industry, without asking the permission of some private organization.

The fact that the American Federation of Labor, under the appallingly stupid leadership of William Green, has developed into a front for low and brutal criminals
cannot be answered out of existence by the cry of labor baiting.
The name of labor has become the last refuge of many a dirty scoundrel and Green, far from moving against any of them, has actually in certain conspicuous cases sided with them against the public and sometimes against the rank and file workers under their control.

The final responsibility for this shocking state of affairs traces to the White House. Unfortunately, President Roosevelt knows, or should know, the character of the AFL and the CIO, which is more Communist than criminal in its leadership, but twice when the house of representatives passed bills which sought to place some public responsibility and accountability on the union leaders, the legislation was blocked in the senate
by White House influence. The hills were even exposed for dis-
bate in congress and there you have a partial answer from congress to the president's recent charge that the legislative branch
had failed to perform its function.

There is a tragic need for a show of plain honesty in this situation. The president, by accusing the political support of resistance in the union movement, has identified his party with them and the implication to the people is that the union bosses, even though they be criminals, have received a grant of power over their lives.
But even though they be honest
union leaders, they deserve—and the people will submit to—no such power. These union officials are only private citizens, with no authority of government and no legiti-mate right to extort money or to collect income taxes from the people.

As to manpower for the war industries, the constant news of strikes here, there and yonder certainly operates against the solemn and undoubtedly sincere and patriotic warnings of McNutt and General Hershey.

The Chicago papers tell of a jurisdictional strike on an enormous steel plant in which the hod
carriers' union, a notorious racket
long infested with vile underworld
criminals, and only one of whose national officers, and that one of secondary rank, ever was elected by the workers, is squabbling with the plumbers and steamfitters over the division of the graft.

The St. Louis papers discover that a recent strike in a cartridge
plant was conducted by a criminal
with a prison record and a background of bootlegging and dive-
keeping whose civil rights were restored in 1935 for the very purpose
of permitting him to become a professional union leader.

The hod carriers' shakedown
union recently stalled construction
of a pipe line to bring fuel to the middle west and east.

This sort of thing continues and
the proportion of man-days lost is beside the point. The point is that no man-days should be lost by strikes and that no man should be placed under labor compulsion as long as any voluntary man-days
are wasted by the unions. Compulsory is contrary to all the past experience of Americans and against their principles, but we doubtless will submit if we are convinced that everything short of compulsion has been used.

But all concerned had better be warned that if and when the American people submit to compulsion they will not submit to compulsory unionism and extortion.

Deaths

MRS. FRANK B. KELLOGG
St. Paul, Minn., Oct. 2.—(AP)— Mrs. Frank B. Kellogg, widow of the co-author of the Kellogg-Briand peace pact, died in her home here late Thursday from cerebral thrombosis. She was 80 years old. Mrs. Kellogg had been in ill health for more than a year.
Her late husband, who served successfully as U. S. Senator from Minnesota, U. S. Secretary of State and Ambassador to the Court of St. James, died Dec. 21, 1937. It was while he was secretary of state in the Coolidge cabinet that Kellogg helped draw up
the pact that bears his name.

CARDS FEEL YANKS ARE WORRIED AS THEY ROLL INTO STADIUM

Will Resume Hostilities on Saturday

Slaughter Stars in 4 to 3 Win Over American Leaguers Yesterday

By GAYLE TALBOT
En route with World Series Teams, Oct. 2—(AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals in particular and National leaguers in general felt that they at least had those "unbeatable" New York Yankees badly worried today as the two World Series rivals rolled toward Yankee stadium and a resumption of hostilities tomorrow in the house that Babe Ruth built.

From the way the happy Cards were taking over their 4-3 victory in yesterday's second game at St. Louis and the big plans they were making for taking the Yanks over the hurdles the next three days on their home grounds, anyone would have thought Billy Southworth's scrappy youngsters were at least a couple of games in front instead of merely having deadlocked the play-off at a victory apiece.

"We've got 'em plenty worried," one after another of the Red Birds chortled in the diner.

"And they're going to get worse worried every game we give it to 'em from here on out," added Mort Cooper, ace of the Cards' mound staff, who was knocked loose by the Yanks in the series opener on Wednesday. Mort apparently had forgotten all about his own misfortune in his glee at rookie Johnny Beazley's triumph over Joe McCarthy's sluggers yesterday.

McCarthy Kicks
Ford Frick, National league president, attached great significance to the fact that McCarthy stalked out frequently to complain of decisions in yesterday's defeat, and that he was sore as a wet hen because George Kuroski's timely triple that scored the Cardinals' third run was ruled a fair ball.

"Ordinarily Joe doesn't leave that dugout three times a season," Frick insisted. "When he starts arguing the way he did yesterday you can bet he has something on his mind besides a baseball cap."

The Cards were inclined to think they had got in a jab on the Yanks that would rattle and fester and bring important results in the remaining games when Enos "Country" Slaughter dashed out third after slugging his double off Ernie Bonham in the eighth inning.

"I suppose they thought we couldn't do things to 'em like that," said Coach Buzzy Wares with obvious satisfaction. "They'll find out. Yesterday was the first chance the boys got to do a little base running. It upset 'em a little, too, when Johnny Hopp tore on to second after hitting his single in the fourth."

Slaughter's Great Throw
For all of the 23-year-old Beazley's stout-hearted pitching in the pinches yesterday (the Yankees had men on base in every inning except two), the consensus in the club car last night was that Slaughter gave the outstanding performance in the Cardinals' triumph. They were glad to see it happen to him, too, because he had committed a two-run miff of a fly ball in the opening game.

The stage was set properly for the Cards' top hitter when he went to bat with two out in the eighth. The score was tied at 3-3. Charley Keller just having blasted a home run onto the roof of the right-field pavilion to climax a three-run Yankee rally that had wiped out a game-long Cardinal lead. The 34,255 fans in Sportsman's park were plenty blue, about ready to give up.

Then "Country" connected solidly, lacing a clean double down the right foul line. Roy Cullenbine fielded it well and made a good throw to Rizzuto at second. But little Phil let the ball trickle through his legs. That was all Slaughter needed. By the time the Yanks collected the ball, as well as themselves, Slaughter was perched on third with the winning run.

Stan Musial, another Card freshman, then came through with his first safety of the series, a hard single over center which Joe DiMaggio collared on about the second hop. Slaughter scored easily from third but it was extremely doubtful he could have made it from second, DiMaggio's throwing wing being what it is.

Probably White
And that wasn't the last of Slaughter's inspiration. In the Yankees' ninth, he made what every baseball man the writer encountered last night declared was as great a throw as he ever hoped to see to prevent a tying Yankee run and perhaps save the day.

Bill Dickey, veteran Yank catcher, singled to right, and Tuck Staiback went in to run for him. Then Buddy Hassett delivered a deep single in Slaughter's direction, and Staiback made the mistake of trying to go to third. Slaughter whipped a long, beautiful "strike" to George Kuroski who was straddling the bag, and Staiback was well out. A moment later pinch-hitter Red Ruffing slammed a long fly to Slaughter against the wall on which Staiback certainly would have scored had he reached third safely.

So Slaughter got the nod over Beazley, despite the fact that the kid from Nashville, Tenn., turned in a superbly cool World Series debut and thoroughly deserved to win.

Neither manager had definitely named his starting pitcher for the third game at the stadium tomorrow, though both promised to do so some time today. McCarthy's almost certain choice for the Yankees was Spud Chandler, while Southworth was torn between his two top left-handers, Max Lanier and Ernie White. The probability was it would be White, because he told Southworth his soupbone felt great last night.

BARKER SELECTS MINNESOTA OVER BIERMAN'S CADETS

Sees Texas, Notre Dame Over Northwestern Georgia Tech

By HERB BARKER
New York, Oct. 2—(AP)—Taking the weekly football blindfold test (a guy can't always be wrong):

Minnesota-Iowa Naval: Bernie Bierman's naval Cadets took Northwestern's Wildcats apart last week in their first major test. But Minnesota, apparently as tough and strong as for those many years, may be something else again. In any case, a flier on Minnesota.

Northwestern-Texas: Don't see how anybody can figure Northwestern is going to get any rest here. The Longhorns have scored more than 100 points in their first two games. They won't score 100 against Northwestern. Maybe they won't score at all. Still, the coin says Texas.

Harvard-Penn: There's ivy all over this one. There ought to be some football too, especially by Penn which gets this vote.

Notre Dame-Georgia Tech: The Irish got a dose of bad medicine from Wisconsin, and Tech, seemingly more dangerous than in recent years, is primed to repeat the prescription. All of which makes it difficult to justify this vote of confidence in Notre Dame.

Alabama-Mississippi State: It could happen that this early-season game will decide the Southeastern Conference title. Mississippi State, 1941 champion, again has Bloddy Black and a good sound squad. Alabama has lost Jimmy Nelson but the Tide has veterans, veterans and still more veterans. No guarantee with this one, Alabama.

Oregon State-California: Either California didn't play its game in the narrow squeak with St. Mary's last week or else the glowing pre-season accounts of the Golden Bears' prowess represented wishful thinking. A trustful soul, we'll pick California to whip the 1941 title-holders and Rose Bowl champions.

Ohio State-Indiana: Indiana still has Billy Hillenbrand and a wide edge in experience over the Buckeyes who lost heavily by graduation. A faint-hearted vote for Indiana.

Iowa-Great Lakes: Tommy Farmer and the rest of the Hawkeyes looked like extremely tough home-bred against Nebraska; Great Lakes touted as perhaps the strongest of all service teams, was upset by Michigan. A wary ballot for Iowa.

Tennessee-Fordham: As long as Steve Filipowicz's passing arm is in shape, the Rams should score. Close enough, but Fordham.

Vanderbilt-Purdue: The Boilermakers gave Fordham a brisk argument and should do as much for Vanderbilt. Sheer guessing, Vanderbilt.

Pitt-Southern Methodist: Maybe Pitt isn't as bad as that 50-7 plastering from Minnesota would indicate. But they'll have to prove it. S. M. U.

Georgia Naval-North Carolina Naval: In which two pre-flight schools pick on the colleges. This vote goes to the Georgia Cadets.

Army-Lafayette: The Leopards scared the daylight out of Cornell last week and should be troublesome for untried Army. A hesitant ballot for the Cadets.

Navy-Virginia: The Cavaliers have lost Bill Dudley. This vote goes to Navy, despite the William & Mary defeat.

Michigan-Michigan State: Just a shot in the dark. Michigan.

Wisconsin-Marquette: Off last week's form, Wisconsin.

Texas Christian-Arkansas: This keeps getting worse. T. C. U. Skipping over the chalklines otherwise: Princeton over Williams; Yale over Lehigh; Illinois over Butler; Nebraska over Iowa State; Missouri over Colorado; Tulsa over Oklahoma.

Cubs Continue Losing to City Series Rivals

Chicago, Oct. 2—(AP)—The Chicago Cubs are getting the same sort of treatment from the White Sox in the 1942 City Series that they suffered last year—they're having difficulty winning.

Defeated in the first two day-light games, the Cubs left their home park to meet their south side rivals in Comiskey park tonight in the third encounter of the four of seven series. Last year the Sox finished the series in four straight.

The Cubs held a one-run lead going into the seventh inning yesterday but the Sox got the equalizer, put over four runs in the eighth, and finished with a 9 to 5 win over the National league club.

The Sox will send Johnny Humphries against Claude Passeau tonight. Passeau is the winningest pitcher of the two teams with 19 victories this season. Humphries' season record is 500, with 12 wins and an equal number of defeats.

National Tea swept its series with Dixon Hatchery last night to take a two game lead and undisputed possession of first place in the Commercial league standings.

The loss dropped the Hatchery outfit, which had a third share in the league lead previous to yesterday's play, into a three way knot for third with Reynolds Wire and the Round-Up.

Sparky's Fenders lost two out of three to Myers and Nolan to fall into second place.

In the other two matches, Reynolds Wire won two from the Stables and the Dixon Telegraph team picked up its first victory of the season in its series with the Round-Up. However, the latter team won the other two sets.

All of the records, both team and individual, which were established last week, remained the same. The Stables' 1029 high game, and the Round-Up's 3001 series are still tops in the game departments; Drenner and Becker continue as individual game and series record holders with 233 and 584.

ROUNDUP Sports

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
Wide World Sports Columnist

New York, Oct. 2.—New York doesn't show much outward excitement over a little thing like a world series, but just try to get a hotel room here for the week-end... And the telephone company reports a jump of 100,000 calls during the time the ball games were on in St. Louis from folks who wanted to know the score... Looks as if it ought to be a great series for guys who never get anywhere on time... Most of the excitement in the opener was in that ninth inning and yesterday the big noise was in the eighth.

TODAY'S GUEST STARS

Bill Tobitt, Oakland (Calif.) Tribune: "Those colleges who took the last vestige of tradition out of football by substituting steel goal posts for wooden ones can now revert to lumber. In that way two interests are served—the nation gets the steel and the customers on the winning side get splinters."

SHORTS AND SHELLS

Carrying out Mayor Fiorello (Butch) LaGuardia's orders to bear down on horse-race gambling, a few cops took over the office of a local racing wire service yesterday. When the customers began asking why the entries hadn't been sent on the wires, the only answer they got was "Ask Butch"... The Detroit Tigers haven't signed any players to 1943 contracts yet, preferring to wait and see what will happen before spring. And the athletes were told to take their uniforms and equipment home with them... Dick Durrance, the old Dartmouth ski star, is working for a west coast airplane company, turning out educational films.

STAGG AT BAY

Dr. Tully C. Knoles, president of the College of the Pacific, gives this explanation of how he and "old man" A. A. Stagg decided to continue varsity football this season... "I explained to Mr. Stagg that many of his players would not return; that his squad would be very small. Besides, that he was old enough to take a rest. Therefore that the College of the Pacific would give up football... Stagg listened politely and replied: 'Mr. Knoles, College of the Pacific will continue varsity football this fall'... And that was that."

Branch Rickey Slated to Quit Redbird Chain

St. Louis, Oct. 2—(AP)—Some time soon after the current World Series, if unbroken rumors are true, there will come an announcement of the dissolving of one of the most famous partnerships in baseball history — Sam Breadon and Branch Rickey of the Cardinals.

Rickey, the father of baseball's chain-store system, is slated to switch allegiance to another club, probably in the National league despite recurring reports that he may tie up with the St. Louis Browns. His five-year contract as general manager of the Cardinals runs out this season.

Rickey and Breadon have been working together for 24 successful years—ever since Breadon, then an automobile dealer, invested $2,000 in the down-at-the-heels club and was promptly elected president.

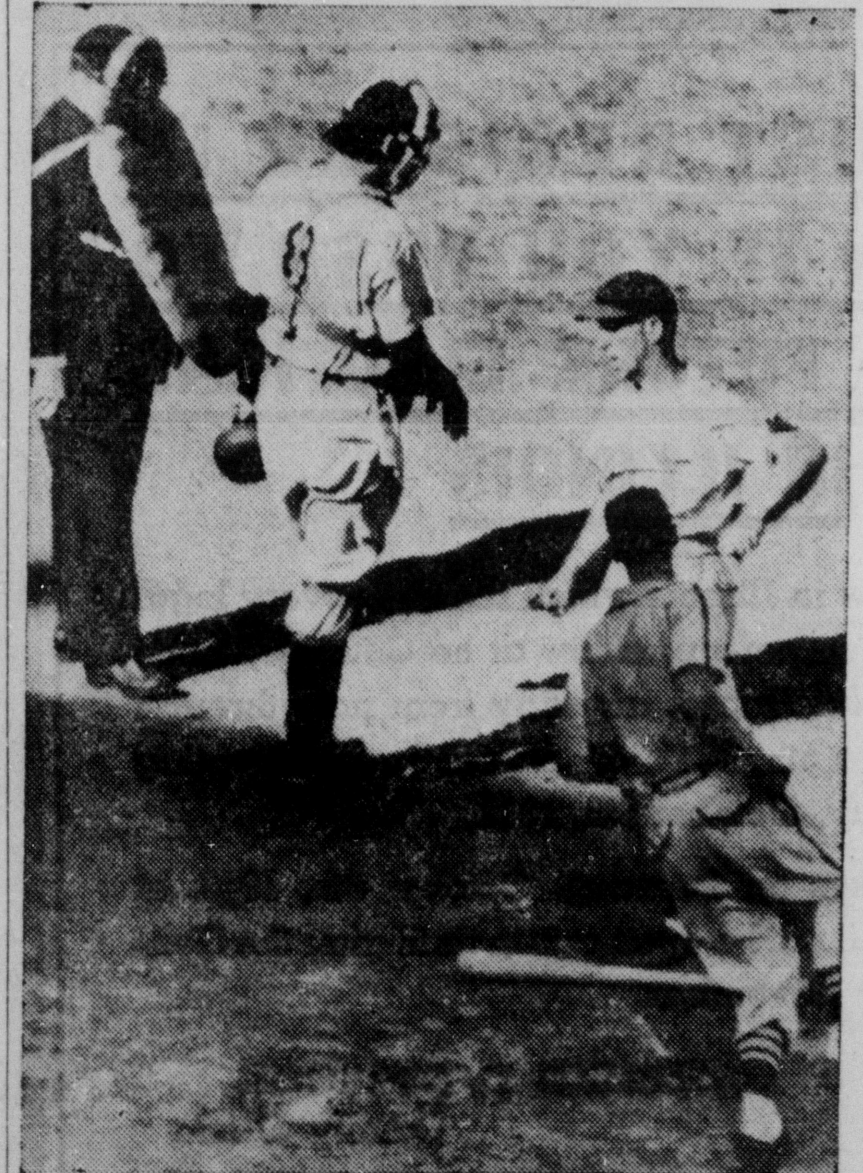

From then on Breadon wrote the checks and Rickey did the miracle work. Just a farmer boy at heart, he soon inaugurated the famed baseball farm system, a scheme of developing his own players in the minor leagues and shuffling them along to the big time as they were needed.

And now that Sam and Branch have decided to come to the friendly parting of the ways they could have found no more fitting time to close the books.

Their sixth pennant-winning season was made up almost entirely of youngsters off the "farms."

Mr. and Mrs. Flyd Barbee have moved from West Hitt street to the home of the former's mother, Mrs. J. W. Barbee on Highway 64, just east of town.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Corbett and son left Mt. Morris this week for Tennessee where they will make their home on their farm. Mr. Corbett has worked at the Kable plant for nearly twenty years. Mrs. Raymond Rummier of Peoria, spent last week with her sister, Mrs. Corbett, prior to their leaving for Tennessee.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Ballard spent the week end with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ballard. Bob is employed at the government ordnance plant at Wilmington.

The Kiwanis club observed Religious Education Week this week when they met at the Kable Inn Wednesday for 6 o'clock dinner. Rev. Paul Turk, pastor of the Oregon Methodist church was the guest speaker. Harold Hoff, president of the club attended a district meeting in Chicago, September 24 and 25 at which time Wayne McCleary of Marengo was elected lieutenant governor of the district.

With the presence of autumn being indicated on every side of us, Mount Morris Woman's club members are remembering another indication of fall, the annual opening of the fall and winter club season. This year the meeting will be the usual open one to which prospective members are invited as guests and will be held at the home of Mrs. Harry Kable next Monday evening, October 5.

Beginning promptly at 7:30 o'clock, Mrs. Harold Hoff, president of Mount Morris Woman's club, will conduct a short business session during which committee chairmen will report briefly on their departments of work, and various important matters relative to the opening of the new club season will be discussed. Mrs. Roderick Kelsey, music chairman, will be in charge of the musical character program, and Mrs. Robert Allen, several vice president, will be responsible for a short playlet.

Mrs. Binnie Wilson, treasurer, will be at the meeting early in order to receive dues which are payable now, and distribute the new program. Officers and all committee and departmental chairmen will meet at 7 o'clock.

Following the program, Mrs. Harlow McNett and the members of her social committee, Mrs. Ira Moore, Mrs. Everett Henderson, and Mrs. Orlo Auman will have charge of the social hour at which the public school teachers are to be honored guests.

All phases of community worthy endeavor are represented in the work of the Community Chest. Team workers have completed plans for the funds drive this year by setting Tuesday, October 27, as the date and $2,300 as the goal.

For those who have freely received, here is an opportunity to freely give to the work of many welfare organizations in need of financial aid.

The Community Chest program

does not require too much of any one individual. It does need the assistance of every wage earner. Men and women from twenty-seven local organizations give of their time, talent, and money to do this job each year, as do others throughout the nation. No praise is asked—simply that each one do his share.

Funds from the Chest are far-reaching. An indelible impression is made locally and is felt from the financial aid given to underprivileged and unfortunate families who would find no other organization to call upon in times of need except the Community Chest.

Besides aid for local relief Mount Morris beneficiary organizations which receive part of their operating funds from this source are the Public Library, Boy Scouts and Cubs, Girl Scouts and Brownies, and the Recreation Board. Local supported causes require 57 per cent of the budget. State welfare agencies require 29 per cent and international relief agencies will receive 14 per cent of the $2,300 budget.

Organizations which team together their efforts to successfully complete the drive and their team captains are as follows: Bookbinder's Union, Olin Middlekauff; Typographical Union, Francis Asp; Engraver's Union, John Towns; Methodist church, Rev. Earl M. Edwards; Woman's Club, Mrs. Luce Meeker; Legion Auxiliary, Mrs. Walter Wadde-low; American Legion, Harold Ross; Paper Handlers' Union, Gordon Leonard; Parent-Teacher's Association, Mrs. Dale Lizer; Farm Bureau, Ralph Thomas; Veterans of Foreign Wars, Jay Cratty; V. F. W. Auxiliary, Mrs. Jay Cratty; Typographical Auxiliary, Mrs. Josie Ray; Community Recreation Board, Maurice Samsel; Library Board, Mrs. Fred Dean; Electrotypers' Union, Ralph Sawyer; Blackhawk Grange, F. H. Avey; Local Girl Scouts, Mrs. L. G. Schaaf; Lutheran church, Rev. Arthur Neumann; Christian church, Rev. W. Harold Wiltz; Church of the Brethren, Rev. Foster B. Statler; State Y. M. C. A., Dr. J. H. Ritter; Local Boy Scouts, O. A. Hanks; American Society for Control of Cancer, Mrs. Harold Marcott; Kiwanis Club, J. W. Watt; Business Men's League, Fred J. Dean, and Pressmen's Union, Ralph Crowell. From this group J. W. Watt is serving as general chairman of the drive.

European Citizens to Be Ordered From Dakar

Vichy, Oct. 2—(AP)—An official source announces that Pierre Boisson, governor of Dakar had decided to evacuate European women and children from the French west African port.

The announcement said that Boisson issued an order Sept. 29 for a census to be taken among women and children of civilian and military families which have two or more children living in the Dakar region.

(Axis and Vichy French propaganda recently have pumped rumors about Dakar apparently to plant the idea that an allied offensive against the tactically important African port is impending. The evacuation plan may be part of the build up.)

Together with the announcement of the census it was stated that "the governor general has just decided to prepare methodically for the evacuation of European women and children in excess at Dakar."

16,000 Air Raid Warden Posts Will Be Marked

Approximately 16,000 air raid warden posts throughout Illinois will be distinctly marked, Capt. William F. Waugh, chairman of the civil protection division, Illinois State Council of Defense, announced today.

Air raid warden posts, Capt. Waugh said, are the only direct links with control centers during air raids and other emergencies.

The signs read "Air Raid Warden, Post No. —, Illinois State Council of Defense," carry the warden insignia and signatures of Gov. Green and Capt. Waugh, and are made of weather-proofed cardboard similar to placards used by the state department of conservation. Placement will be made as soon as they can be manufactured, Capt. Waugh said.

Immanuel Lutheran Church to Observe Golden Anniversary

Special Services Have Been Arranged for Coming Sunday

"The Little White Church on the Hill", or the Immanuel Lutheran church, begins Sunday morning a three day series of services, commemorating the 50th anniversary of its organization and the dedication of its church edifice. The main anniversary service is to be held Sunday morning beginning at 10:45 a. m. at which time the Rev. M. P. F. Doermann D.D. of Forest Park, president of the Illinois District of the American Lutheran church will be the anniversary speaker.

Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock, the Rev. F. W. Henke of Ashton, pastor of the St. Paul's Lutheran church of Franklin Grove will deliver the sermon. This service will be addressed particularly to the various societies of the congregation. St. Paul's of Franklin Grove is the mother congregation of our church, for it was the sainted Rev. Staufenberg then pastor of St. Paul's, who was instrumental in organizing Immanuel of Dixon, and her first pastor.

On Tuesday evening beginning at 7:30 o'clock the service will be a reunion of all those confirmed in Immanuel during the fifty years of her existence. At this service the Rev. Mr. A. T. Buckler of Elizabeth, Illinois, will be the guest speaker.

Church's Pastors
Seven pastors have served Immanuel during these past fifty years, namely: Pastor Staufenberg, 1890-'94 L. C. Lentz, 1894-'97 H. F. Fischer, 1897-1907; Theo Drexel 1907-'16; G. A. Graf, 1916-'23; A. G. Suechting, 1923-'37; and C. L. Wagner, 1937-.

During these years many improvements have been made within the church edifice and parsonage, also to the grounds. Beautiful stained glass windows and a Vogeler pipe organ were installed, the basement Sunday school rooms rewired, decorated and improved and in preparation for our fiftieth anniversary the parsonage and church were giving a new coat of paint and the church auditorium redecorated.

Friends former members and present members of our congregation are invited to join with us in all our anniversary services.

—Particular housewives for many years have used our attractive colored paper for the pantry shelves, bureau drawers. It comes in lovely colors—pink, canary, green, blue, white. In rolls—10c to 50c.—B. F. Shaw Printing Company.

Gov. Green Asks Aid for State Taxpayers

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 2—(AP)—Governor Green has asked Illinois congressmen to support a proposed amendment to the federal revenue act to permit Illinoisans to deduct state sales tax payments in computing their federal income taxes.

The governor pointed out in letters to representatives and senators that Illinoisans cannot under the present law deduct sales tax payments because the tax technically is levied on the retailer instead of consumers.

The amendment, the governor said, would put Illinois on the same basis with citizens of other states who are permitted to deduct sales taxes because the levies are made directly on the consumer.

Permit System for Shipping Soybeans in Effect on Monday
Decatur, Oct. 2—(AP)—A permit system for shipping soybeans in Illinois will go into effect at midnight Monday, Elmer F. Messman announced yesterday.

The state Agricultural Adjustment Administration chairman and Interstate Commerce Commission agent said the permit system would keep railroad movement free of congestion in the shipment of the bean crop to processing markets.

The system requires a permit issued by the agent to the railroad office before a car can be loaded with beans for Decatur, Bloomington, Gibson City, Champaign, Taylorville or Springfield. Messman was named agent by the commission yesterday.

Lower Requirements for Hospital Helpers

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 2—(AP)—Lowering of the age and educational requirements for prospective attendants in state hospitals was announced by the Illinois Civil Service Commission today.

Applications will be accepted from physically fit persons over 18 who have had the equivalent of an eighth grade education. Formerly the age limits were 21 to 55, and applicants were required to have a high school education or suitable working experience.

Robert L. Hunter, civil service commission president, said the step was taken to spur the current recruiting drive for attendants to replace those entering war services and the armed forces.

Mussolini's 'Friend' Sent to Ellis Island

Newark, N. J., Oct. 2—(AP)—E. E. Conroy, head of the Newark office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, said today Baron Osvaldo Cocco, Englewood dealer in Italian paintings who claimed to be a friend of Mussolini, had been sent to Ellis Island as a dangerous alien enemy.

Conroy said Baron Cocco told FBI agents who arrested him that they would have to apologize to him and salute him after Italy won the war.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Richness and Fullness of Life Ends
Discord and Strife in Our Own Souls

Text: Acts 16:13-15; Romans 5:1-11

BY WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D.
Editor of Advance

From the quarter's studies in Genesis we turn now to studies for the last quarter of the year in the Christian life in its individual and personal aspect, and in family and church. The lesson material is drawn from various sources in the Gospels and the Epistles, and also its supplementary passages in the Old Testament. This is the first of three lessons dealing with personal and individual life.

The studies begin naturally with faith in Christ as our personal Saviour. That, of course, is the one and only foundation of the Christian life. Many may have much natural or acquired goodness, he may manifest fine qualities of life as a citizen and in his family, but he cannot be a Christian or lead a Christian life without a very definite faith in Christ and relationship to Christ as his personal Savior.

Perhaps a question that is in many minds at the outset is, Why should one be a Christian? Is it not enough to live a good life, to be honest and faithful in all of life's relationships, not only in the home and family but toward all one's fellow men? The answer to this is given to us very specifically in the Bible itself, even if we did not find the answer in daily life. Most men are conscious of their imperfections. There are few who would say that they have done all that they could in the obligation of love and righteousness, and if they did so, they would be in danger of being like the Pharisee who congratulated God and himself upon all that he did while he despised the poor Publican so conscious of his sins that he would not so much as lift up his eyes to heaven, but cried in his heart, "God be merciful to me, a sinner."

A parable like that, when we take it in relation to all of life, should remind us of the deepest thing in goodness. It is humility, and the man who is not conscious of something lacking might be found to be lacking the deepest thing of all.

Jesus in the Sermon on the Mount sets before men the ideal of perfection. There is little hope of our attaining to that ideal, but what would happen if deliberately the leadership of T. R. Mason. We have classes to serve every one from cradle roll age to senior men and women. A mixed class for young men and women extends an invitation to any who do not attend elsewhere. If you are a stranger of that age in Dixon and have not yet found a church home, come and get acquainted with these boys and girls. We also have a class for young married men and women. Classes for all ages will be given a gracious welcome.

Dr. Hughes will preach at 10:45

we set something less as the goal of human life and as the standard for character?

It is to men conscious of something lacking in themselves that the Gospel comes with this message of peace and salvation. The assurance of Paul, who interprets this Gospel for us as he interpreted it for early Christians, is that if we have faith—that is, if our lives are entirely attuned to righteousness and we have accepted the grace of God—our faith is accounted for righteousness. God does not condemn us, because we love that standard and are seeking earnestly with God's help to realize it in our lives. Through His grace and mercy He renews us and gives us salvation.

This is the message of Paul. It is associated with the death and resurrection of Jesus. He tells us that Christ died for the ungodly, but he is insistent always that God was in Christ, that all that Jesus suffered and endured on earth was to reveal to us the heart of God. It was in a sense, God made man and suffering for us that he might reveal to us the richness and fullness of that love through which God sought to redeem all those who had wandered away from him or who had failed to realize the true goal of life. "God commended his own love toward us, in that, while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us."

Personal peace underlies personal salvation and personal righteousness. We cannot experience the richness and fullness of the Christian life if there is discord and strife within our own souls. Paul when he manifested these things was speaking out of his own experience. In his life there had been a great struggle, and his conversion was the result of this struggle within when the light dawned upon him while he was persecuting Christians on the way to Damascus, and the experience was so extreme that it seemed for the time to affect even his physical well-being.

Here is the one foundation of the Christian life: It begins in faith and in the fact that we are reconciled to God through Christ. But this is only the foundation and only the beginning of the Christian life; upon it we can build through constant faith the superstructure of lives that are Christlike.

a. m. The Lord's Supper will be observed at this service. At 6:30 p. m. the B. Y. P. U. will meet under the care of Mrs. Walter Rice. At 7:30 the young people will conduct the devotion period and the pastor will preach. Mid-week service is held at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday. Choir rehearsal and group meetings at 8:15.

If your membership has never been transferred to the local church, come and unite in Christian service with us.

Next Sunday begins a most interesting quarter of study in our Bible school. As in the past, the Bible is the center and subject-matter of our lessons and the lessons are graded to the various age groups. A few of the lesson titles for next Sunday morning are: Juniors, "The Bible, Our Living Textbook"; Intermediates, "John, the Herald of the King"; Seniors and Adults, "The Proof of Prophecy". Our school is open to you and your family. You will feel our welcome. Thomas Moll is the general superintendent.

The tabernacle will hold its monthly Communion service next Sunday morning in connection with its morning worship service. The pastor will bring an appropriate communion meditation.

Our Sunday evening service is always one of inspiring singing, good music, and a Christ centered message from the Bible. The pastor's sermon subject for next Sunday evening is, "How God Saves Sinners."

The official board will hold its October meeting next Tuesday evening at 7:45 in the pastor's home.

The mid-week prayer service of the tabernacle is held each Thursday evening at 7:30.

of other churches throughout the world the Harmon church will celebrate World-Wide Communion Sunday this Sunday. In a day when political and commercial forces are all tending to separate the world the church still stands as the one force uniting men of all nations. Its appropriate that today in the midst of war Christians all over the world and on both sides of the battle fronts unite in a common ritual which will emphasize to them their relationship of brotherhood. As a bond of union with our sons in the camps and our brothers and sisters who suffer in the blighted areas over seas we will share gifts to our communion offering with the Fellowship of Suffering and Service. This Fellowship will act through the committee for Overseas Relief to extend our hands in sympathy and a gift of life-giving food to the suffering overseas, and through the Commission on Camp Activities and chaplains it will reach all our boys on land or sea.

The W. S. C. S. meets Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Emmett Jacobson.

Friday evening the choir will meet for rehearsal at 7 p. m. Due to the local meeting of the first aid course the Young People's meeting will need to be changed to Sunday evening.
